GLOBAL UPDATE

Dear GBCs, partners and sustainable building advocates,
Welcome to the WorldGBC April Global Update.

It's now or never – the recent IPCC report warns that current national pledges are not ambitious enough to stop global warming from exceeding 1.5°C.

For the built environment, the report revealed promising data about our sector's potential to accelerate climate action through solutions that already exist. But only if we see an immediate increase in political ambition and financial incentives to make this happen at scale.

Read my reactions to the report and recommendations for industry action.

March has been an incredible month for the WorldGBC global network, as our Green Building Councils (GBCs) have been able to connect on a scale which we have not seen since the start of the pandemic.

Our Middle East and Africa Green Building Congress saw over 200 attendees from 43 countries and 67 networking meetings. And our European Regional Network brought #BuildingLife GBCs together in Rome, Italy, at our first in-person event for two years, creating a truly collaborative space to take forward our mission to decarbonise Europe's built environment.

I invite you to join us in the critical discussions and actions towards sustainable built environments for everyone, everywhere:

- "It's now or never" – read my reactions and recommendations in response to the latest IPCC report
- WorldGBC launches Sustainable Reconstruction & Recovery Framework, a post-disaster toolkit for building back better

- Get ready for WorldGBC's 'Leadership Summit for Sustainable Built Environments' on 27 June – 1 July
- Final call for Green Building Council Board of Directors nominations, closing 12 April
- The new EU Taxonomy and its impacts on the building sector, 13 April
- Americas Regional event: From Energy Efficiency to Net Zero Carbon Roadmaps in Latin America, 28 April.

Best wishes,
Cristina Gamboa, CEO, World Green Building Council

"It's now or never" – Cristina Gamboa's reactions to latest IPCC report

The latest report from the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) warns that current national pledges are not ambitious enough to stop global warming from exceeding 1.5°C. Here, WorldGBC CEO Cristina Gamboa shares reflections on the role our network can play in being part of the solution.

LEADERSHIP SUMMIT

FOR SUSTAINABLE BUILT ENVIRONMENTS

LONDON, UK 27 JUNE - 1 JULY 2022

20 OF LEADERSHIP
TOWARDS SUSTAINABLE
YEARS BUILT ENVIRONMENTS

Reconnect to the power of our global network

To mark 20 years of WorldGBC, we're hosting our first Leadership Summit 27 June — 1 July in London.

Join progressive leaders from across the WorldGBC network and special guests to strategically advance and scale up decarbonisation and sustainability solutions across built environments worldwide now.

The WorldGBC Leadership Summit is an in-person event and we encourage you to reconnect with fellow changemakers, discover opportunities, celebrate 20 years of accomplishments, and contribute with your voice and insights as we focus on 2025 and build on our strategy Sustainable Buildings for Everyone, Everywhere.

Programming details of this in-person summit, session outlines and details on paid for events will be released in the coming weeks.

NEWS FROM OUR NETWORK

GBCs AND PARTNERS

GBCs and Established GBC CEO Network

- View the dedicated playlist with recordings from the Middle East & Africa Green Building Congress held on 23 & 24 March 2022.
- GBCA (Australia) and Cundall have partnered to release 'A Practical Guide for Electrification: For New Buildings'. GBCA also launched a roadmap to decarbonise Australia's precincts, and highlights the important role that infrastructure plays in delivering climate positive precincts. This work references WorldGBC's Beyond Buildings report, which maps the role of buildings and infrastructure in meeting the three global megatrends for the built environment: Climate Action, Health and Wellbeing, and Resources and Circularity.

- UKGBC have published a toolkit to support the delivery of social value across built environment projects.
- If you missed GBC Australia's 4th annual TRANSFORM conference on 23 — 24 March 2022, an industry-leading event at the forefront of the sustainable built environment, then you can still view some great resources and opportunities from the event here.
- In this Market Insights report, we capture some of the key points raised at the 8 & 9 February 2022 CEO Network meetings, which focussed on Nationally Determined Contribution (NDC) ambition and implementation. WorldGBC will shortly be convening a Global Policy Taskforce to bring together GBCs to share experiences, best practice and align around a common purpose to ensure that global, national and local building policy is on a 1.5 degree trajectory.

Corporate Advisory Board and WorldGBC Regional Partners

- We welcome world industry leaders Daikin as the latest regional partner to join our Americas Regional Network.
- Carrier expands sustainability solutions and services offering to help customers achieve decarbonisation goals.
- CDL's Integrated Sustainability Report 2022 has been published, focussing on bolder decarbonisation targets.
- Google has announced its commitment to completely decarbonise their electricity supply and operate on 24/7 carbon-free energy by 2030.
- Signify has created the Green Switch programme to enable action and deliver on the European Green Deal's ambition.

Industry News

- On 15 March, Arup launched a free online resource to promote circularity in buildings. This resource supports the goals of WorldGBC through our Resources & Circularity programme, which will provide further resources and reports through 2022.
- A new study called 'Towards embodied carbon benchmarks for buildings in Europe', by Ramboll, in collaboration with leading researchers from Aalborg University Build and KU Leuven, sets out a framework for benchmarking and limiting the embodied carbon of new buildings.
